Sanitary District's Tax Rate Drops About 5 Cents

A five-cent reduction in the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District tax rate was anticipated last night, as directors met to approve the 1961-62 budget.

The directors were expected to approve a $1,310,000 budget, of which some $1,055,000 will be raised by district property taxes.

The tax rate will probably be almost 63 cents per $100 assessed valuation, compared to 68 cents last year.

Claude McFee, district secretary, said the decrease in the tax rate is largely due to the increased assessed valuations and the directors' decision not to increase the budget to keep the tax rate as high as last year.

The district's assessed valuation this year: about $168 millions; last year: close to $143 millions.)

The final figure this year depends on the State Board of Equalization's utility roll.

There are two sections of the budget, that money which goes for bond retirement, and that which goes for "expenditures."

The bond retirement will amount to about $580,000, including the interest and principle due, but certain credits reduce the amount which must be raised by taxes to some $510,466.

This means about 30.4 cents of the 63 cent tax rate this coming year will go for bond retirement.

The "expenditures" size of the budget totals some $730,000, said McFee.

But district revenue from annexation and connection charges and other fees reduces this figure to $540,000, the amount which must be raised by taxes.

Last year's picture has some 32.9 cents going for bonds and about 35.5 cents for expenditures, totaling 68.4 cents.

This year's budget is only about $25,000 to $30,000 higher than last year, despite the large increase in assessed valuation.

McFee emphasized, in an interview with The Sun, that all these figures were tentative, and subject to revisions and adjustments by the district's directors last night after The Sun went to press.

The district's finance committee, Directors Frank Salfingere and Charles Gibbs, have been working on the budget for about six weeks, and the directors have discussed the budget while meeting as a committee "of-the-whole."

The employees' request for a general increase in salaries was not approved this year.

The only salary increases this year will be "step" increases which accure when an employee gains more seniority on the job, or is promoted. There is also no "increment" this year, ie. a percentage increase based on present salary.

The budget figures do not include any costs of sewer construction, which is financed by subsequent connection and annexation fees.

With the completion of two major projects next year, the district will have spent nearly $10 millions on new facilities and sewer lines in six years.

After that, it will be "pay-as-you-go," the directors have indicated.

Next year, the district will undertake the "D Line,' between Lafayette and Walnut Creek.

And also on the agenda is the "K" pressure line from the town of Orinda to the Orinda Crossroads.

Already complete is the "D Line phase from Lafayette to the vicinity of the Red Mill.

Some $2 millions remain of the $8,900,000 bond issue, but actually the remaining amount includes some $1 million collected since 1956 in connection and annexation fees.

Income each year from those fees is about $250,000 to $300,000. This will form the district's sewer construction money in the future.

The Brown and Caldwell report, which was the blueprint for spending the $8,900,000, actually plans through 1980, and calls for spending some $14 millions.

The biggest single jobs under the bond issure were the treatment plant on Arnold Industrial Highway, costing about $2 millions, and the outfall line, from the plant to the bay, costing about $1.5 million.

Hearing on Duffel, Smoot Apartment Is August 24

Final hearing for the Duffel and Smoot request to rezone property in Orinda has been set for August 24 at 10:30 a.m. in Martinez.

The applicants request the rezoning of certain property from transitional residential agricultural to multiple family residential.

The area involved is frontage of Encinas de Moraga approximately 200 feet south of Moraga Way, Orinda.

The county planning commission recommends approval by the board of supervisors. The planning commission voted five yes, one no and one absent at a meeting held July 25.

Duffel and Smoot plan to construct a two-story, 11--unit apartment building if the rezoning is approved by the board of supervisors.

Bruce Howard, president, Orinda Association, told The Sun that representatives of the association will be present at the August 24 hearing to reiterate their stand regarding the proposed rezoning.

The association, according to Howard, does not believe that Orinda is ready for multiples at this time. He pointed out that with the Underwood property also slated for apartments, Orinda would have not one, but two such buildings.

Junior Chamber Discusses School Budgets, Taxes

J. E. Jentges, assistant superintendent of the Orinda Union School District, and Ross Reagan, business manager of the Acalanes Union High School District, were guest speakers at the July 25 business meeting of the Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Their subject was school budgets and finances. Jentges indicated that school funds are derived primarily from state aid and local taxes. The proportion of state aid is dependent on the assessed value of each area, Jentges said.

As a result of the recent reassessment, Contra Costa's increased valuation will result in less state aid that must be made up by local taxes.

Jentges added that 51 per cent of this year's budget will come from state aid, the rest from local taxes. Reagan spoke on high school finances, indicating that the increased budget is a result of an increased number of children plus inflation.

Reagan also indicated that the high tax rate in this area is a result of the lack of industry.

County Awards Insurance to Doyle Firm

Contra Costa supervisors this week awarded the 1961-62 contract for county insurance coverage to the firm of Cross and Doyle, agents for Pacific Indemnity Company.

The bid went to Cross and Doyle although the basic bid of the Contra Costa Association of Insurance Agents was some $4000 under the Cross and Doyle bid of $91,372.

This is because Cross and Doyle, which has been the county insuror for a number of years, submitted an over-all bid of $112,-298, which includes a consolidation of special districts under the insurance "umbrella."

The "special district" coverage was not offered by the association, or by two other bidders who did not offer guaranteed cost premium plans.

The Cross and Doyle special district coverage bid was $20,927, compared to its successful bid last year of $27,590.

The accepted bid included $90,-563 for basic insurance, $808 for professional liability with limits up to $1 million and $20,927 for special districts governed by the supervisors.

Teen's Want Ad for Work--- Deadline Today

The last time you teen-agers can run free work-wanted want ads in The Sun is today. The deadline is 5 p.m.

This service was offered for many weeks this summer by The Sun to assist teen-agers in an area where jobs apparently have been hard to find.

To place your ad, come in personally to The Sun office at either 1320 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, or 1000 Oak Hill Road, Lafayette.

The ad will run for two weeks, unless canceled. It is limited to 10 words.

Dentist Speaks to Rotarians

Dr. William Bernard, children's dentist in Orinda Village, was guest speaker at the Orinda Rotary Wednesday noon.

He illustrated his talk on his practice with colored slides.

Bernard is a member of the Orinda Rotary.

John Boulware was program chairman for the day. Charles Ivy served as chairman in the absence of Tom Horton.

Next week James Moore III of the San Francisco Wells Fargo Bank trust department will speak on the "Practical Aspects of Creating a Trust." Merle Brown, manager of the Orinda Wells-Fargo American Trust, will be program chairman.

2500 Petition For Rheem Bank

More than 2500 people have signed petitions being circulated in Rheem for the purpose of bringing a bank to the area.

The Rheem office of Mason-McDuffie Company has assisted the proponents for a bank by distributing petitions door to door and placing them in center stores and business offices.

No date, apparently, has been set for presentation of the petitions to the banking commission, which will decide which bank comes to Rheem. Ed Turk, handling the drive to bring a bank to Rheem, was unavailable for comment.

However, petitions and statements from Rheem residents and merchants indicate the majority want a bank. Harry Davis from the office of Mason-McDuffie said the area draws from a 10,000 population.

According to rumor, Wells-Fargo American Trust Company is foremost in consideration of choice of banks.

Budget Hearing Is Next Friday

A public hearing will be held next Friday at 9 a.m. on the proposed 1961-62 budget of Contra Costa County.

The figure is $42,368,875, compared to last year's $38,802,000.

Supervisors hope they can keep the tax rate to within seven cents above last year's rate of $2.198.

Three cents of the seven-cent increase would go for county libraries.

Total departmental requests, before the "whittling" process, totaled more than $48 millions, according to County Administrator J. P. McBrien.

Chamber Will Hear Parking Proposals Thurs.

A report on the proposals to conduct a parking survey in Orinda will be given to members of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce when they meet Thursday at the Casa Orinda.

Clarence Betz, chamber secretary, said that four proposals have been received to date with a fifth expected by the end of the week. The parking committee is studying the proposals and will present their recommendations at the August 10 meeting.

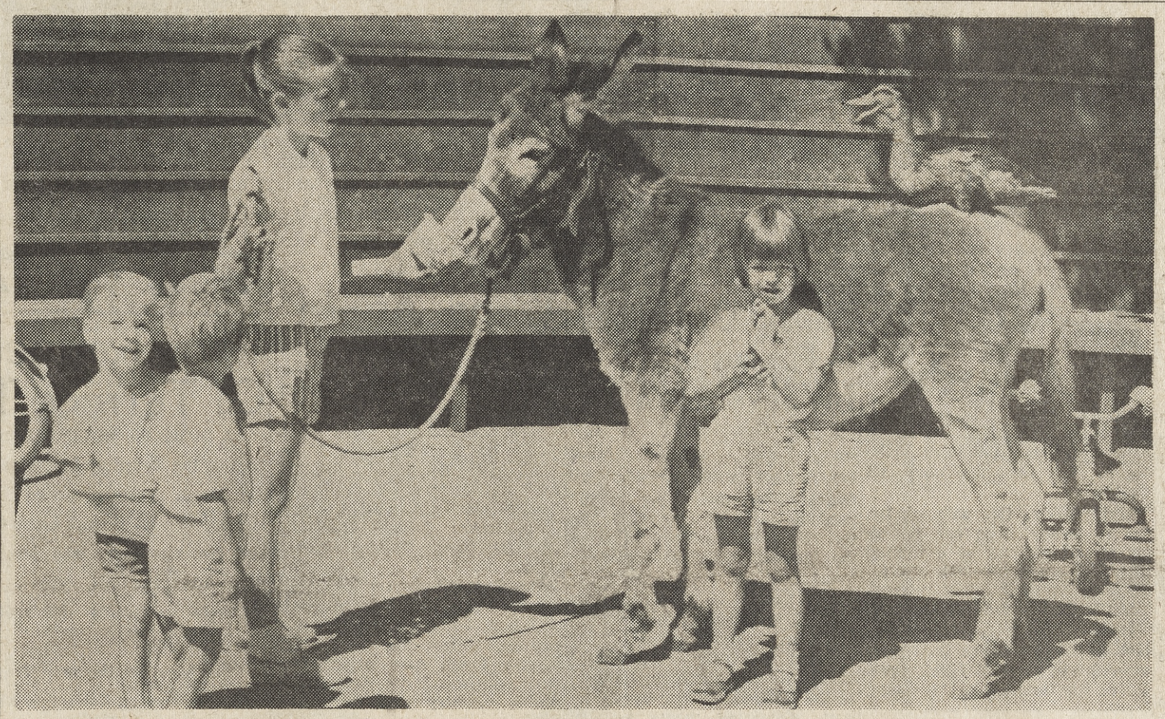
Fire District Estimates Lower Tax Rate



LAUGHING from his perch on Sugar's rump, Papa Mallard joins in the fun at the Jerome Donchin home on Tumbling Brook Lane where the "more the merrier" is the motto for both humans and animals. Pictured from left are Jenifer, 4; Jason, 3; Gyneth, 7, who is holding Sugar, 15-month-old burro, and Jaradine, 5, holding one of the baby mallards. Estimated 20c Decrease Seen for '61-'62 Fiscal Year

An estimated 20-cent decrease in the tax rate for the Orinda Fire District is forecast for the 1961-62 fiscal year.

The probable decrease is 15 cents greater than the original estimated decrease of 5 cents, which seemed likely at the time the 1961-62 budget was adopted.

A 5-cent decrease was estimated when the county released figures on the recent reassessments in the district.

Increased assessed valuation of the district accounted for the estimated decrease in taxes.

However, the budget for the next fiscal year is $317,591, up $3345 from last year's $284,246.

FIRST ESTIMATED at $1.05 per $100 assessed valuation, the estimated tax rate is now 90 cents. The additional estimated decrease became possible when figures on the assessment of public utility rolls became known and firm.

Zach Montgomery, vice president, Orinda Fire District Commission, reported on the budget at a meeting of the commissioners last Thursday.

Present at the meeting was Ralph Hays, representing the Orinda Association. The association has appointed representatives to "sit in" on meetings of all special taxing districts with particular concern for budgets.

HAYS WAS unavailable for comment before The Sun went to press, but Bruce Howard, association president, commended the district commissioners for budgeting according to need, rather than taking advantage of additional funds made possible by the increased assessed valuation.

"This district is one of very few special districts where the tax rate will decrease," Howard said. "Some special districts are 'holding the line' on tax rate in the face of increased assessed valuation, but in many instances the tax rate is rising for these districts because the opportunity exists through funds from increased valuation to widen horizons.

"Orinda Fire District is to be highly commended for considering a decrease in the tax rate, possible through increased assessed valuation," Howard remarked.

CLARENCE BETZ, publicity officer for the fire commission, said the increased assessed valuation would probably not affect this year's tax rate, but would in all likelihood be a reality for the next fiscal year.

In other business, C. W. Langridge, president, Orinda Fire District Commission, appointed the following committee chairmen: Zach Montgomery, vice president, history and publications;

Gilbert Earl, insurance; E. A. Dawson, equipment and grounds; R. W. Aitchison, operations, firefighting; C. W. Langridge, personnel, budget and inventory; Clarence Betz, publicity.

Betz said that Fire Chief Al Winsor reported that 19 men had passed the written and oral examinations for positions with the department. The commissioners will start interviewing applicants next week.

Public Hearing on School District Budget Is Monday

A public hearing on the 1961-62 budget for the Orinda Union School District is on the agenda for the Board of Trustees meeting Monday night, Pine Grove School at 7:30 p.m .

Adoption of the final budget will take place at this time, according to Superintendent Joseph Sheaff.

Sheaff also plans to ask the board to authorize the county board of supervisors to sell bonds for building funds for four classrooms at Inland Valley School.

The California Highway Patrol has completed its review of school bus stops, and their recommendations will be presented to the board Monday, if the Acalanes District Transportation office is able to complete its study of same in time.

Local Cash for Big Flood Job To Be Studied

Ten residents have been appointed as members of the citizens committee to determine " . . . the most equitable and practical means of financing the local share of the Walnut Creek watershed flood control project."

Some $1,500,000 must be raised on the local level to qualify the area for some $18 millions in federal money and $5 millions in state money which will finance a complete program for the Walnut Creek channel.

(See The Sun editorial page.)

The committeemen:

F. A. MARSHALL of 91 Quail Court, a Walnut Creek councilman; Louis Pitto of 100 Alderwood Road, representing Walden area; A. J. (Buck) Johnson of 986 Seven Hills Ranch Road, Walnut Creek, representing the County Flood Control and Water Conservation District.

Edwin Tallyn of 2145 North Sixth Street, Concord, representing the City of Concord; Mrs. Lucy Betts, 1827 Altura Drive, Concord, representing the Concord-Clayton Valley area; Robert Guy of 121 Hawthorne Court, Pleasant Hill, representing Zone 3-B Advisory Board.

Roscoe Jones of Del Amigo Road, Danville, for the San Ramon Valley area; Gavin High of 1121 Laurel Drive, Lafayette; Timothy Lynch of 125 Hazel Drive, Pleasant Hill; King Parker Jr., representing Pacheco.

The Flood Control Commission made the appointments after consulting Supervisors Mel Nielsen and Thomas Coll, also the cities of Concord and Walnut Creek, the Zone 3-B Advisory Board and other groups.

THE $24 MILLION project will improve the Walnut Creek main channel and a portion of San Ramon Creek from Suisun Bay near Avon upstream to the Rudgear Road crossing of San Ramon Creek, south of Walnut Creek.

Some $90,000 for advance engineering is included in the current Public Works Appropriation Bill, now on President Kennedy's desk.

Youngsters 'n Pets Fill Days With Fun!

Six children and a wide assortment of animals add up to a summer full of happiness at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Jerome Donchin of Humbling Brook Road.

Everybody's busy, and it's apparent everybody has a pet to care for, play with and love. Actually, this situation exists all year round, but summer with its long lazy days is a golden time for the animals who have their playmates home from school all day.

STAR OF the menagerie is Sugar, a 15-month-old burro that Dr. Donchin brought home to the family when she was only one week old. "We bought her at a burro farm in Santa Cruz," Mrs. Donchin recalled.

"I guess we could have purchased an older burro, but I think my husband fell in love with Sugar, she was so adorable. We had to bottle feed her every three hours at first and it was three months before she took solid food," Mrs. Donchin remembered.

Sugar traveled from Santa Cruz to the Donchin home in the back seat of their Volkswagen, a feat that a year later would be impossible.

Mr. and Mrs. Mallard have lived with the Donchins for two years and this year presented them with a family of baby mallards. Keeping them company are Sasha, a cocker spaniel, and a cat named Panda.

"WE HAD a goat family for a while," Mrs. Donchin said, "but I could see the day coming when I would be milking the goat and that was just a bit too much."

The goats are now happily at home at the Children's Animal Farm at Tilden Park, where they are visited occasionally by their former family.

John, the Donchins' 13-year-old son, has 30 chickens. These, however, his mother explained, are more in the nature of a business enterprise than pets.

"John's chickens keep us supplied with eggs and he also sells eggs to neighbors. He's been very busy this summer, for with a friend he's in the 'fix-it' business, too. They've been repairing bikes most of the time," his mother said.

The Donchins' other children are Stephanie, 17, a senior at Miramonte; Gwyneth and Jeradin who attend Pine Grove, Jenifer, 4, and Jason, 3, who stay home and 'help' mother.

AN ADMINISTRATION BUILDING for the Orinda Union School District is expected to be complete by February, 1962. Located on a site in front of Pine Grove School, the 4800-square-foot building overlooks Orinda. Primarily, the exterior construction is of redwood, with some stucco, designed to blend with the construction of Pine Grove. The roof will be tar and gravel. Exterior aluminum louvres extend across the front of the building for sun and light control. There are 24 parking spaces at the front, with additional parking in the rear. Construction began July 14 and the contractors are now pouring the foundation forms. Architects for the new building are Anderson Simonds, Dusel and Campini of Oakland.

August Crammed With Fun Packed Vacations!

By KITTY MIKA and ANN LINCOLN

August is the vacation month and as it approaches more and more Orinda teens seem to be leaving for fun-packed vacations, but those who stay at home continue to throw parties and enjoy their summer freedom.

The grand opening at La Val's on Thursday and Friday nights was the highlight of Orinda social life last week. Teenagers flocked from the whole area to listen to Del Courtney's band and to gab with their friends.

AMONG THE countless teeners there were Carol Crosby, Lynn Holmgren, Sue Campbell, Brian Collins, Bob Cooper, Vicki McCosker, Sue Henry, Cathie Calhoun, Janice Hempstead, Carol Carpenter, Roger Cline, Mike Calhoun, Jim Rose and Nancy Henry.

Rick Layne's was a gathering place for last years' seniors on Saturday night. Pete Stocker, who used to live in Orinda and moved to New Jersey, was at the party and naturally the boys spent about two hours yakking about old times. Roz Starkman was Pete's date and Pam Medcalf was Rick's.

Acording to Skip Spaich, roof climbing out by the gater hole is really great—right, Sue?

Greg—what was that you had under your coat when you and Nancy were at La Val's Saturday night?

TAHOE IS attracting more and more Orinda teens. Pat Kelly brought Linda Sears with her to her aunt's cabin at Tahoe. A Frenchman up there gave the girls some interesting advice—are you going to take it, Linda?

Gayle Baker returned from Cobb Mountain and threw a small party. Pete Doyle and a friend of Gayle's from Las Lomas, Karen Nattress and Mike Gilmore, and, of course, Mario, were there.

Many in the class of '61 seem to be army-bound. Some of those who left recently to serve Uncle Sam are Bill Powell, Randy Corsi and Tom Ferguson.

It seems that Dave Parrish has abandoned his Jane for some deer. He will be at Willets hunting for the next two weeks.

AILANTHUS HELD a car wash last Saturday at Mike Lynn's, which was a big success. As it turned out, Mike Lynn's employees were the girl's best customers.

Wendy Wilcox is having a ball at Twaine Harte. Ann Lincoln is there with Wendy for the first week, but then her duties force her to come home. Also seen at Twain Harte were Sharon Huebschwerlen, Karen Stafford, George Hauer and Sherry Wilson.

This past Thursday night was the beginning of a nine-day trip to Santa Catalina sponsored by the Presbyterian Church. Some of those who are going to be enjoying themselves in the Southern California sun and sand are Marilee Snell, Anne Cunningham, Pam Ferguson, Ce Ci Kettle and Betty Tranberg.

Beautiful weather and a fast boat attract anyone and they lured John Reilly and Jo-an Scholberg, Paul Lockland and Mimi Loomis and Scott Huntley and Chris Campbell to the sloughs on Monday for a fabulous day of water skiing.

Two Win Art Awards

Blanche Brody and Gardia Fox, both of Orinda, won second award honors with their paintings at the recent Jack London Square Art Festival.

Mrs. Brody, the wife of Dr. Burton Brody, won her honors for an oil portrait of a woman titled "Odeon." The title of Gardia Fox' winning oil is "Everything Is Go," a modern abstract.

Both artists appeared Sunday last on KTVU, where they were interviewed by Paul Mills, director of the Oakland Art Museum.

Col. F. Thomas Completes Staff Course

Army Reserve Lieutenant Colonel Frank J. Thomas of Orinda, completed the associate command and general staff course at The Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, July 22.

Phased over a five-year period, the course parallels the resident course at the college. To complete the required 120 hours a year, students receive training at various installations, but must complete the final two weeks at The Command and General Staff College.

The college, the Army's senior tactical school, was established in 1881 as the School of Application of Infantry and Cavalry.

Colonel and Mrs. Thomas live at 225 Broadview Terrace, Orinda. He is assigned to the U. S. Army Reserve School in Oakland.

The son of Mrs. Clara E. Thomas, 953 The Alameda, Berkeley, he is a 1942 graduate of the University of California, Berkeley. Colonel Thomas is employed by Bankers Life Company (Des Moines, Iowa) in Oakland.

Marmion Hays Earns Master's Degree

Marmion Hays, 11 Ranch Road, completed his requirements for a master of science degree during the first summer session at the University of the Pacific in Stockton.

Hays did his advanced work in physics at the 110-year-old institution.

The student will receive his degree during commencement exercises in June, 1962.

Weather Keeps Baffling

Weather variety has been the theme for Orindans during the past week.

Keep the overcoats and the swim suits handy, it is anyone's guess as to what the temperatures will be next week.

Here are the past week's temps:

	High	Low
July 27	88	44
July 28	92	43
July 29	76	49
July 30	68	48
July 31	77	41
August 1	79	43
August 2	80	47

Papsie Georgian Is Featured In 'Seventeen'

Papsie Georgian, 15, of 4030 Happy Valley Road, the youngest person over to win the National Synchronized Swimming crown, receives national recognition on the "Teens in the News" page of the August issue of Seventeen magazine.

The local teen, who claims "Somehow, trophies never bore me!" successfully defended her national solo title for the third consecutive time earlier this year at the National Indoor Synchronized Swimming meets in San Francisco. In addition, she placed first in the stunt competition, winning the Joy Cushman Stunt trophy.

A picture of the young teen displaying the grace and form that earned her the championship is included in the August issue of the publication.

From Comedy to Opera

More than 50 local residents are expected to attend the general organization meeting of the Contra Costa Musical Theatre, a new group which will plan productions ranging from musical comedy to opera.

The meeting will be held August 16, according to R. G. (Grif) Duncan, president and resident of 2336 Walnut Boulevard, Walnut Creek.

Originally the place was to have been the Duncan home, but the response has been so great that another location is being contemplated.

IT WILL be announced soon.

Other officers are Mrs. Walter Schill of Concord, vice-president; Walter Schill, treasurer; Jan Duncan, secretary.

Two new staff members will work with the group's directors.

They are Fred DeLude of Concord and Monroe Kanouse of Oakland.

Hats Off To...

Rene Kennedy, First Lady Of Terrace Tea Room

A SUMMER BOUQUET, please, for Rene Kennedy, vice-president of the Board of Directors of the new Therapy Center Terrace Tea Room recently opened in Walnut Creek. The lady has been logging up a lot of work hours there, according to her fellow workers and her secretary, who just happens to be husband Marvin, a Rear Admiral, USN, retired, who too deserves a boutonniere for his help in putting the pretty luncheon spot in its charming Victorian state.

The idea for the new Tearoom was born during meets of the Unit Coordinating Council of which Rene is chairman for the second year. The Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, which benefits from all Terrace Room proceeds, is Rene's favorite philanthropy. She's a member of the Orinda Orioles Unit, a past president of Orinda Republican Women's Club, a member of the State Board, Northern Division of California Republican Women and active in Orinda Community Church.

Mr. and Mrs. K. are native Missourians, have traveled far and wide during his naval tour of duty, have been happily settled in their Lost Valley Drive home for 11 years where the "Admiral" enjoys gardening and keeping his busy wife's appointment book "ship-shape." (He loves the job and she "couldn't do it without him!")

Area Transit Tunnel Work in 4 Years

Orinda will be the scene of rapid transit tunnel construction in a little more than four years, and Orindans will be riding rapid transit trains in less than seven years, provided the proposed 1962 bond issue passes.

Residents of Lafayette, Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill will have to wait a little longer (1972) for the inauguration of the high speed system planned by the Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

Of course, all this depends on 60 per cent voter approval of the $1,078,000,000 bond issue in five counties to finance 120 miles of transit lines, facilites and stations.

THE CONSULTING engineers' final report, submitted last weekend to transit directors in San Francisco, outlines the entire system.

It says the system will be in operation by 1972, but ". . . significant portions of the system will be in full operation by 1968."

One significant portion scheduled or 1968 completion is "Phase I" of the Contra Costa line, including the trans-bay tube, San Francisco and Oakland lines. three miles of tunneling through the Berkeley hills, and the collector station in Orinda.

"Phase II" in Contra Costa will complete the entire job, all the way to Concord. Therefore it appears likely that Lafayette commuters will not have rapid transit service any earlier than Concord.

JACK GOULD, BARTD assistant chief engineer, said the tunnel through the Berkeley hills will cost some $50 millions, and will be about three miles long.

Tunnel work will begin probably in 1965, and will begin at both ends.

The Contra Costa entrance to the tunnel will be some 100 to 200 feet from the Orinda transit station.

It will be located in the northwest quadrant of the Orinda Crossroads. Each train will be switched to the opposite track and will run "backwards" returning to Oakland and San Francisco.

IN EFFECT, the Orinda station will be a temporary terminal station, although no special construction will be necessary for this purpose.

The Contra Costa commuter, faced with a decision whether to use his car or the transit, will have time and money factors to consider, said George MacDonald, BARTD spokesman.

Peak hour service will be as frequent as every 90 seconds.

The cost to the commuter given below is in 1960 money, enabling him to compare it with his present operating costs, which will also increase by the time the transit goes into operation.

Here is the situation for the Pleasant Hill commuter:

SOME 22 minutes to downtown Oakland (Broadway), costing 50 cents; 30 minutes to San Francisco (Market and Montgomery), costing 75 cents.

The Walnut Creek commuter:

Some 19 minutes to downtown Oakland, costing 45 cents; 27 minutes to San Francisco, costing 70 cents.

SOME 15 minutes to downtown Lafayette commuter:

Oakland, costing 35 cents; 23 minutes to San Francisco, costing 60 cents.

Orinda commuter:

Some 10 minutes to downtown Oakland, costing 25 cents; 18 minutes to San rancisco, costing 55 cents.

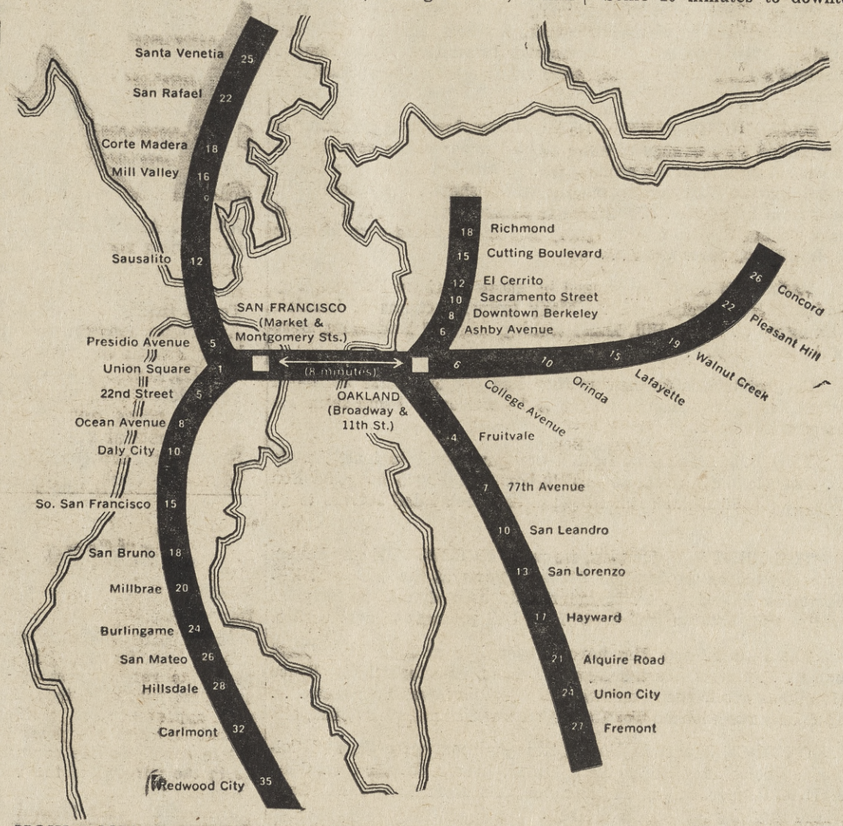
The final report to BARTD directors was the result of two years of effort by the consulting firms of Parsons, Brinckerhoff, Quade and Douglass of New York and San Francisco; Tudor Engineering Company of San Francisco and Bechtel Corporation, San Francisco.

IT MENTIONS that there will be 20 miles of subways, 2 miles of aerial lines, 52 miles of grade-separated surface lines and a four-mile underwater tube linking San Francisco and Oakland.

It also mentions the two-mile rail link built within the lower structure and beneath the present roadway of the Golden Gate Bridge.

There will be some 900 rapid transit cars serving 52 stations in 120 miles of track.

Some 38 stations will have parking for 43,000 cars.



HOW LONG it will take you, using rapid transit, is shown here. And the accompanying story also tells you how much it will cost you in 1960 money. Not all the downtown San Francisco and Oakland stations are shown on this diagram.

Held poolside in the garden of the handsome Handlery house on Virginia Drive, Lonnie's sister Ardyce shared hostess duties w/ Nancy Roffinella & Florence Moore.

On hand were over 35 of Lonnie's friends, who promise to visit her in the southland where she'll make her new home near Disneyland . . . Husband Chuck has taken over as manager of the famous playland's hotel & the family have taken a house temporarily in Tustin.

BACK TO THE PARTY . . . A delicious day for a gathering in the garden . . . Orange & white striped paper cloths covered the tables set up around the pretty pool . . . Jane Jacobus, Jane Courtright, Yvonne Courtney among the well-wishers . . . Jackie Lehr over from Lafayette . . . Marguerite Jackson, who was still "in the dark" about the joint B'day party she would share surprise-style w/Jim Hill on the morrow . . .

VACATION tidbits exchanged by guests Barbara Ferrone, Fay Smith & Jane Creighton . . . Many townside chums of Lonnie's turning up . . . Etta Hill, Millie Walling, Mildred Pridemore more of the local gals . . .

Taking "two out" with their sons, Steve Jr., aged 10, and Patrick, 6, Steve and Kay relax awhile after a busy three months of Summer League baseball. Tool's interest in baseball stems from his school days when he played on the American Legion team; he co-coached the champions Rams (who shared top honors with the Badgers in the Peanut Division No. I) with Gene Schuman, whose son Dick also was one of the star players as was junior Tool. The home they've remodeled and sports-fun with their sons the the Tool's chief interests, the whole family going out for swimming, baseball and tennis together. Letters to The Editor

ZONING

Dear Editor:

The County Planning Commission is acting wisely in proposing to rezone most of the southeast part of Orinda. Sudden appearance of notices posted on telephone poles has led to some possible confusion as to the purpose of the commission's action.

Most of the area studied for rezoning is still in agricultural zones. This includes the Ivy Drive area, Lincoln Estates, much of Moraga del Rey, and other areas from which farming and grazing have long since disappeared. Much of the rest of southern Orinda, though still undeveloped, is potentially residential and should be so recognized.

BEFORE a serious loophole in the county zoning ordinance was closed, small-lot residential subdivisions were permitted in agricultural zones so there was no incentive for rezoning these Orinda agricultural areas.

Now, in order to have suitable land use restrictions apply in developed and potentiall developable areas, the commission proposes that appropriate residential zoning districts replace the existing agricultural zones.

The only possible danger to the people of Orinda is that the commission might assign unsuitable classifications in some areas while in the process of rezoning.

R-15 zones (15,000 square feet minimum lot size) may be appropriate and realistic for subdivided land where most lots are smaller than 20,000 square feet, but Orinda residents have expressed clearly their opposition to zoning any additional undeveloped land to residential classifications less restrictive than R-20, which requires 20,000 square feet of lot area and 120 feet of frontage.

STRONG objections should be raised to any effort to put any undeveloped land in the Orinda Union School District in R-15 or smaller zones. Any attempt to use this rezoning to downgrade land use standards in Orinda would meet strong, united opposition.

The basic purpose of the rezoning is sound: To eliminate the "A" zones where they are no longer applicable. We sincerely hope that in doing so the commission retains the high standards of development and low residential densities so important to Orinda's future.

All New Bay Area Phones Will Be 'All Numbers'

After October 1 all new telephone customers, persons who change residences and those who change numbers in East Bay, Peninsula, and Marin communities will receive all-number prefixes, Pacific Telephone announced today.

The company said this is another phase in the gradual shift of Bay Area phones to the new system, known as All-Number Calling, which substitutes numerals for alphabetical prefixes.

The first city in the Bay Area to adopt number prefixes was Lafayette on July 22, and Howard Greenhalgh, Pacific Telephone manager there, reported telephone users took the change in stride.

Los Altos will follow on August 20. Some Hayward customers will convert September 30, and in December all customers in Bethel Island, Knightsen, Brentwood, Oakley and Byron.

A second phase of the shift to number prefixes will also start in October when work begins on resetting some phone directories completely to the new listings.

The company explained that printing production problems require that each directory be reset over a period of months before it is issued.

At that time a resident customer's listing is reset to all-numbers he will be mailed a new number plate to be mounted on his telephone. He will also be notified that from then on company information records will show his phone with the all-number prefix. A business firm's number plates will be delivered and installed by telephone personnel as soon as possible after its listing is changed.

The Marin directory will be the first to change. Starting in October information operators will give out the new number prefixes on a progressive basis until the book is issued in April, 1962.

Women Voters Hear Arab Speaker

Members of the League of Women Voters of Concord-Diablo Valley gathered July 25 at the home of Mrs. James Keating, Orinda, to hear Dr. Mustafa Elgabaly discuss the problems and plans of the United Arab Republic.

U.S. foreign economic policy is a topic that has had sustained interest and study for several years among all leagues in the United States.

AS A part of this study, informed citizens of various countries are invited to explain their economic policies as well as plans for future development.

Mrs. C. W. Funk of Danville, league president, announced plans for the resumption of the fall meetings in September. Studies of issues of federal government will be reviewed.

Louis B. Ambler Appointed PHA Regional Director

Appointment of Louis B. Ambler Jr., of Orinda to the position of San Francisco regional director of the Public Housing Administration was announced recently by Mrs. Marie C. McGuire, PHA commissioner in Washington, D.C.

Ambler succeeds J. G. Melville, who was elevated a month ago to become regional administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency in San Francisco, over-all federal housing program coordinator for the West Coast.

The new regional public housing head has been acting regional director since Melville's promotion and has been assistant regional director for development since 1956.

A GRADUATE of the University of Pennsylvania in landscape architecture and former professor in the School of Architecture and Applied Arts of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Ambler, 53, has been an employee of the Public Housing Administration since 1940.

Joining the agency in Washington, D.C., he worked there and in the Atlanta regional office in planning housing for defense and war workers. He first came to San Francisco in 1944 and in 1945 headed up the technical planning for the veterans' re-use housing program. Since then he has held progressively responsible positions in both development and management phases of public housing.

Immunize Your Children Now!

All students must be immunized against polio before being admitted to school according to Assembly Bill 1940 passed in the last legislative session.

The only exceptions will be for medical reasons or personal beliefs.

Details of administering the program cannot be spelled out at this time since they have not yet been completed by the State Health Department.

Dr. H. L. Blum, county health officer, urged parents to prepare for the coming program now.

There are some 115,000 children of school age in Contra Costa County.

"It is imperative," he said, "for parents to take action to have their children's immunizations brought up to date by getting necessary booster injections.

For children who have not had any polio shots, now is the time to begin the series," he said.

"The Health Department urges everyone to have a high level of protection, not only for polio, but for diphtheria, tetanus, smallpox and in younger children, whooping cough," he continued.

Parents should know the dates when children were immunized. They will need this information when school begins.

The current recommendations of the County Health Department for polio immunization includes a series of three injections with a fourth injection one year later and then a booster shot each three years thereafter.

"In Contra Costa County immunizations are not given in schools. "In line with the Health Department's policy of getting people to help themselves to good health, we urge people to use their family doctor for immunizations," said Blum.

"For those parents who have difficulty obtaining immunizations privately, regular Health Department immunization clinics are held throughout the county. Watch for dates of clinics in your local newspaper," he said.

Elders Want Low Rentals

The Contra Costa Housing Survey, to determine the housing needs of older people in the county, has been extended throughout August, according to Gertrude H. Hall.

She is director of the Project on Aging for the Contra Costa Community Welfare Council.

Because out-of-town visiting during family vacations, many older persons were not able to secure questionnaires during July.

They are still available at the local public libraries.

Persons over 60 years of age are urged to make their housing needs and desires known so that private and public builders can be appraised of the kinds of dwellings that should be constructed.

Recent returns on the questionnaires indicate a preponderance of interest in the central part of the county.

Largest number of returns have been received from Walnut Creek and Concord.

Mrs. Beryl Crow, Soroptimist member from Martinez and Mrs. Kay Peters, member of the Martinez Senior Citizens, have begun the tabulation of the questionnaires.

They said the returns from the center of the county indicate need for moderate rentals in housing especially designed for retired persons.

Wilkin Is Elected

King Wilkin of Orinda has been elected chairman of the board of Zellerbach Paper Company, the Crown Zellerbach corporation's merchandising subsidiary, it was announced recently.

Dr. Wilcox Is President, Church Council

Dr. Delbert E. Wilcox is now serving as president of the Central Contra Costa Council of Churches which has 39 churches in the area.

He was re-elected to the post in February at the annual meeting of the council. He previously served during a portion of 1960 following the death of the past executive director, the Rev. Dr. Abbott Book.

Dr. Wilcox was born in Oconto, Wisconsin.

He graduated from Lake Forest College, Lake Forest, Illinois, in 1943 and the University of Wisconsin Medical School in 1946.

After his internship he served as a medical officer in the United States Navy for two years. He received his post-graduate training in psychiatry at various facilities in the San Francisco area.

Gen. Gruenther Will Do Talking

General Alfred M. Gruenther, president of the American National Red Cross and former NATO chief, will speak at the 1961 Alameda/Contra Costa "Kick-off Dinner" September 13 at the Oakland Exposition Building.

An authority on international affairs, Gruenther has been described in the past as "the Army's biggest brain," and "The thinking machine that bosses NATO."

Recently a visitor to Moscow and Berlin, he had an intimate look at "the changing face of Europe" with regard to Russia's race for world supremacy.

H. O. "Duke" Schneider is Contra Costa chairman for the crusade's annual event.

Services Held For Two Victims Of Auto Crash

Double funeral services were held July 27 at the Chapel in the Valley, Lafayette, for two victims of an automobile accident near Tilden Park July 23.

Killed in the accident were Miss Esther Sanchez of Jal, Mexico, who was visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hernandez.

Paul Hernandez was also killed in the crash. He and his wife, Luc, and a year old son lived at 1230 Ygnacio Valley Road, Walnut Creek.

ALSO injured in the accident was Enrico Gonzales of Oakland.

A Requiem Mass was held at St. Mary's Church in Walnut Creek.

Bruno Francescai of Orinda attended the 30th annual convention of Toastmasters International at Seattle last week.

Novel Program For Families Is Introduced

Breaking the communication and understanding barrier within families, between parents and youth, is the purpose of a novel program being introduced by the Institute of Social and Personal Relations.

The program consists of bringing parents and youngsters from different families together in the same group-sharing and interaction situation.

"On the basis of our preliminary experimentation with such multi-family laboratories," reports Dr. Jack Little, human relations consultant on the institute staff, "they can go a long way toward improving communication and mutual understanding within family units.

"BECAUSE of the possibility of cross-family exchanges between adults and children, to which other family members are party by being present, the multi-family laboratory contributes uniquely to the development of the family.

"In this respect, multi-family laboratories may turn out to be one of the most important technical developments in counseling since the introduction of total family conferences or, as they are sometimes called, total family counseling or total family therapy."

THE NEW laboratories are the latest addition to the institute's wide use of group process for helping people to a better understanding of themselves and others, and to learn to communicate more effectively.

The new program supplements total family conferencing, married couples' groups, mixed adult and same sex groups as well as private counseling — all part of the institute's services through its family and personal living division.

All services are available both in the Oakland and Walnut Creek offices. Further information may be obtained by calling either GL 1-1880 or YE 5-8040.

A Rare Moment... Very Rare, Indeed!

How often this summer have you reclined in your favorite chair or chaise lounge in the back yard and enjoyed an hour of relaxation, without a worry in the world?

Lots of nice days, these days.

First, you go to the icebox and crack open a can of cold beer. Or maybe ice tea is waiting there.

AND BELIEVE me, you're the most relaxed guy in the world as you steer towards your favorite reclining spot, where it's cool.

The yard is quiet. Even the family dog is nowhere in sight.

A long sip, and you recline your head back to survey the clouds—cumulus. A bird. The sounds of suburbia fade away.

A moment like this is worth fighting for, you say to yourself.

THE CLOUDS have moved a little by now, and they pull your attention to the roof overhang and some shingles which have somehow worked loose.

That's right. Almost forgot. Repairing the roof is one of the priority items as soon as you finish building a tool shed next to the garage.

Of course, the shed being there will mean a lot of walking to and fro—hard on the grass—it would probably be a good idea to put a walkway, gravel or even concrete, in there.

As a matter of fact, the grass could use some attention right now.

THAT LAST weeding didn't do the whole job, and some brown spots are showing, too.

Well, you COULD at least give it a good mowing and maybe get rid of some of those weeds before the wife gets home. And sprinkle a little.

Heck, if you just sit here and stare at the clouds all day, this place will go to wrack and ruin in a year!

Isn't it kind of silly to try to relax when your investment is going to pot?

Ups-a-daisy Better get a move on! Not much time! Lost 15 valuable minutes day-dreaming, already!

We Favor This Tax!

Although The Sun shares in every respect the area taxpayer's antipathy to more taxes, higher taxes or just plain taxes, it wishes to extend best wishes and godspeed to the new "Citizens Flood Control Working Committee."

This committee of 10 local residents has been formed to ". . . determine the most equitable and practical means of financing the local share of the Walnut Creek Flood Control Project to be constructed by the Army Corps of Engineers . . ."

In other words, the committeemen will examine alternatives which include possibly a $1,500,000 bond issue or the levy of a tax above the statutory limit set for the County Flood Control and Water Conservation District.

(The above statutory limit tax was recently authorized by the State Legislature for a flood district, flood zone or sub-zone.)

OBJECTIVE: Taming the Walnut Creek channel which regularly overflows its banks, causing great damage and financial loss to local homes and businesses. Still remembered well are the 1955 and 1958 floods.

Several years ago the voters turned down a $10 million bond issue for local flood work, half of which would have gone for the channel. Every penny would have been raised from local taxes.

But this time, the local $1,500,000 is a drop in the bucket compared to the some $18 millions which the federal government will supply and the some $5 millions which the State of California will provide for purchase of rights-of-way, easements, land purchases, etc.

Uncle Sam's mammoth job is contingent, however, upon local residents raising some 7.4 per cent of the total cost.

THAT IS WHERE the local committee and your tax dollar comes in.

There hasn't been a big flood in a couple of years or more.

But heavy rains and flash floods are part of this area's history as far back as weathermen keep records.

Our area is developing, and with that the potential losses due to heavy rains and flash floods become always greater. Some $2 millions was the price tag of the 1958 flood.

ANOTHER PROBLEM which will get the committee's attention will be the area where the local expense is to fall—district? zone? sub-zone?

Upon this question may turn a major portion of the discussion.

Don't Be Kind Anymore

The days are hot and the nights are cool, so naturally we like to leave our doors open. And the window screens often go askew. After all, it's summer.

And when we drop in on neighbors or go to the show, it seems a waste of time to go through the ritual of locking up the house tight as a drum—so we leave it—wide open.

It's Be Kind to Burglars Week all summer long in Contra Costa.

TAKE LAST WEEK.

The list of burglaries in this area went on and on.

A model home at 1060 Sanders Lane, Moraga, offered no resistance. The burglar opened an unlocked door and helped himself to ash trays, pillows, towels, and a lot of miscellaneous stuff.

While the Norman Miller family of 1008 Dolores Drive, Lafayette, were on vacation, a burglar apparently used a house key left on a hanging flower pot bracket to walk in.

HE HELPED himself to miscellaneous change in two small banks and a stock certificate.

A back door was unlocked and the family was sleeping when a burglar walked into the home of Dan Wakeman at 1907 Ardith Drive, Pleasant Hill.

A transistor radio, a lady's purse, a charge-a-plate and some cash were taken.

A burglar walked in where the back door was unlocked at 394 Gladys Drive, Pleasant Hill. Norma Wilder reported a white gold ring with six small diamonds gone.

A BURGLAR walked in through the French doors of the Edward Leavitt residence at 172 Doris Drive, Pleasant Hill, taking a purse. The family was at home at the time of the burglary.

A burglar entered through a sliding glass door at the home of Betty Ensey, 179 Beverly Drive, Pleasant Hill. Taken were a purse with a diamond engagement ring, glasses, pocket knife, wallet and some papers.

This is a partial list only.

And there are a number of reported attempted burglaries where the doors were locked.

JUVENILE BOYS apparently think nothing of marching into your house and helping themselves to whatever is in sight, whether you are at home or not.

Be a gracious neighbor, but a reluctant victim. Lock your doors.

Don't be kind to burglars.

The Staff Corner

From the Inside...

By CAROLE GOOD

This is the third staff corner I have written this week. One is in a library book; one blew to the four winds in the field behind home sweet home.

The original was based upon the inside of a newspaper office and how it barely changes. The copy paper just gets yellower and yellower. The same old, but classic, cartoons when moved, leave white spaces on the walls.

ABOUT SEVEN years ago, the inside of one of the two offices featured a coffee pot and some sort of caged bird. Now the bird has been replaced by a model plane and the pot by a larger pot with a sign which reads: coffee . . . five cents a cup. Inflation.

There are notices on the bulletin board which call attention to a meeting of the 1955 city council.

ANOTHER STAFF member and I considered adding some curtains, but we thought better of it. The masculine editorial staff members wouldn't be able to contain their grief.

Some "mysterious" editorial staff personage insists upon chomping on the pencils. The current theory to stop this mania for graphite and splinters is to dip the gnawing end of the pencils in clear nail polish. Fair warning . . .

One of the other hazards in this work is losing the gluepot brushes in the gluepots. The only way to salvage the brush is to fish around inside the gluepot and snag it with a pencil or finger or ruler.

EVERY ONCE in a while one of the plastic ashtrays will rebel against being poked with a burning cigarette by giving off an odor which instigates at least three queries of "What's burning? What's burning?"

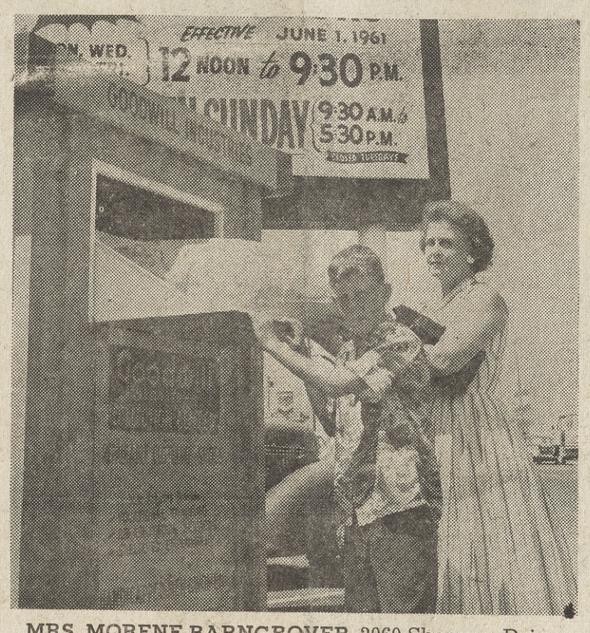
For the Morse code fans, there is a brief message hanging by a paper clip from a thumb tack. For weeks and weeks one of the staff members kept looking at this series of dashes and dots.

Finally curiosity won out. "What does that message say?" he asked with a perplexed look. The message, it turned out, said in beat tones: SOS.

There is also a highly informative and decorative type of wallpaper implemented in newspaper offices: maps.

All in all, newspaper offices are a lesson in paradox: saving or filing in the circular file system.

Everything goes into one of these two. It is necessary in order to keep the inflow on par with the outflow.



MRS. MORENE BARNGROVER, 2060 Sherman Drive, Pleasant Hill, gets an assist from her son, Barney, as she deposits discarded clothing in new Goodwill deposit box located in parking lot of Simon's Hardware, South Main and Bothelho, Walnut Creek. Large articles will be picked up by phoning local Goodwill Industries store.

We Like It Here...

The Brow That's Furrowed Isn't Wrinkled With Care

My MARIE MONAHAN

The ony trouble with becoming a New Mother after you're 35 is that some people think you are the baby's grandmother.

I KNOW . . . It happened.

A candid comment about my "grandchild" from a store clerk sent me scurrying home to scrutinize myself faster than you can say "Mother Machree."

THERE I stood in my little boy shorts (this probably made everything worse—just ASKING for it!) a pretty ribbon in my hair, an ice cream cone in hand & baby bouncing away in my arms . . . "is that your grandchild?"

I mustered my poise, a hard thing to do with a melting cone in one hand & a wiggly infant in the other & answered calmly—"No, but it COULD be-"

The clerk looked open-mouthed — "You don't mean it's really YOURS—?" She might as well have said "You mean you're from the MOON?"

WELL, nothing can send you faster in search of a looking glass, Alice!

The house could have collapsed before I'd budge from in front of that bathroom mirror where I did Do-It-Yourself-Study of myself.

Taking a long hard look in the mirror is a luxury time seldom affords me these days. And it's true, between the first bouncing baby brought some fourteen years ago & THIS one, time has wrought its changes.

THE BROW that's all furrowed & wrinkled with care is there all right.

At lease the wrinkles turn upward. It's when the wrinkles turn down that you're really in trouble.

THAT many there?

THOSE circles under my eyes — How long have there been there?

I search for signs of a double chin. Are those silver hairs among the gold I see?

"The old gray mare, she ain't what she used to be . . . " (Oh, Stop It!)

WHERE is that slim svelte creature of yesteryear? Where is that wispy waistline . . . ?

WHAT has become of that well-manicured, pedicured, pompadoured, vivacious & vibrant personality that used to be?

Frankly, I don't know. I care less.

I've never had such a ball!

Babies may weigh more these days. But there's more time to cuddle.

Babies may be more active & smarter but that's okay with me. I'm more relaxed now.

When our dimpled little darling sprays the strained spinach all over me, we have a wonderful chortle together.

WHEN I get up in the morning now, I bounce out of bed full of smiles. Fourteen years ago I may not have had circles under my eyes, but I was a nervous wreck facing another day with a new baby. Then a second one . . . & still a third one.

BUT NOW, it's different. I have lots of help.

WITH the older children charmed with the new one, I get all the breaks . . . plus built-in baby sitters.

The baby is working her magic.

I may LOOK like the Baby's Grandma but here's the dividend. I have ALL the pleasures of a Grandmother, but the pride of being HER mother.

Letters to The Editor

ASSESSMENTS

Dear Editor:

Your newspaper evidently receives very wide circulation. You will find enclosed with this note a letter written to me by John W. Lynch, chairman of the State Board of Equalizatioin.

I thought that you, and perhaps your readers, would be interested in the statement of policy by Mr. Lynch.

From my personal experience I can assure you that the State Board of Equalization is doing everything within their power to improve and standardize the assessment procedures in the 58 counties in California.

ROBERT KAHN

EQUALIZATION

Dear Editor:

(Ed. Note: The following letter is one received by Robert Kahn from John W. Lynch, chairman, State Board of Equalization.)

I noted with interest your letter to the editors of The Sun, dated June 16, 1961, dealing with the reassessment problem of Contra Costa County. The last paragraph of your letter dealt with the role played by the State Board of Equalization, and I quote from your letter.

"The State Board of Equalization is concentrating mainly upon counties that under assess, and probably would not raise any complaint if a county assessed higher than the average set for all counties."

Article XIII of the California State Constitution deals with revenue and taxation, and Section 9 deals with state and county boards of equalization. This section has been interpreted to mean by the California State Supreme Court in 1880 in the case of Wells Fargo Co. v. the State Board of Equalization that the state board is authorized to increase or lower the entire assessment roll of any county but not the individual assessments, and the county board shall neither raise nor lower the entire local roll but only individual assessments.

Based upon this decision, the board then may only be concerned with the average ratio of the entire county and may not concern itself with the important problems of intracounty equalization that you are referring to.

The policy of the state board allows a tolerance zone of nine percentage points around the statewide average ratio, which last year was 22.6. Thus, the tolerance zone allowed by the state board for last year's county averages ranged from 18.1 to 27.1.

No county average was below or above the tolerance zone last year, and I assure you that the state board would lower a county if its ratio was above the tolerance zone just as quickly as it would raise one below the tolerance zone.

I sincerely hope that this explanation clarifies any misconceptions that you may have had regarding the role played by the state board in its intercounty equalization functions.

If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to write to me.

Under The Sun

Agenda Today: Thank You, TV Gore and Income Tax

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Today—a couple of thank you memos and a pocketful of notes:

Several weeks ago this column asked you if The Sun should comment editorially on national and international affairs. The response was good and unanimous: NO. Several suggested that occasionally readers might be interested in how The Sun might solve the world's weighty problems.

Thank you for contributing shoes for the school kids in Korea. One very kind and generous reader (anonymous) sent $10 cash; several $5 checks and other $1 contributions were received. If you want to help, send $1 to CARE, in care of the local postoffice or to The Sun. We're consolidating the $1 checks into $5 units, so we can send six pairs of shoes for $5.

Clips from here and there

Now for some newspaper clips and comments:

NEWS ITEM: The National Council of Juvenile Court judges at a San Francisco conference leveled a sharp attack on television programming which depicts crime, violence, brutality, sex and sadism.

"We, as judges, must realize that impressionable children can react in unacceptable behavior when treated to a steady diet of blood and thunder," declared Judge Henry Riederer of Kansas City. "Actually, the onus is and should be on the industry."

What to do about it?

NEWS ITEM: Newton Minow, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, has urged parents to write to television stations if they think programs place too much emphasis on violence.

COMMENT: We all agree that TV is too gory for our kids. Certainly we should let the TV stations know our thoughts. And one additional comment: Who is the boss in our families—the parents or the kids? There are certain movies the kids should not be permitted to see; certain TV program should also be outlawed in the home. I'll admit that the situations aren't exactly comparable. It's harder to police the TV set in the home. But it can be done, or can it?

The college problem

NEWS ITEM: Oliver Carmichael, a member of the Commission on Goals for Higher Education, has endorsed the suggestion that colleges and universities add a third semester to the academic year as the way to handle the high enrollments expected in the next decade. Carmichael points out that year-round classes would not only enable most students to graduate in less than three years, but it would permit optimum use of the very expensive university buildings and equipment.

COMMENT. The last point strikes me as vital. Even if students only went two semesters each year, the schools could accomodate one-third more students each year by operating a third semester.

Are we fat-headed taxpayers?

NEWS ITEM: Walter Williams, editor of the Fairfield (Iowa) Ledger, writes about the evils of the Federal income tax withholding plan. He calls it the pain-killing system by which they are withheld weekly so that the "fat-headed taxpayer" never quite realizes the enormity of the tax bite put upon him by spend-thrift politicians.

He writes, "These politicians know well that the withholding system lulls and drugs the taxpayer into insensibility. He does not feel the pain of paying taxes. It does more. The withholding system affects the taxpayer like opium, sending him off to a beautiful dreamland in which all good things are paid for by the Federal Treasury and it doesn't cost him a cent."

No comment needed.

Letters to The Editor

TUNNEL TROUBLE

Dear Editor:

(Ed. Note: The following letter is a copy of one sent to the District Engineer, District IV, Division of Highways, San Francisco, by Robert Kahn.)

On June 22 of 1960 I wrote to you reporting that on Wednesday, June 22 at 11 a.m. I traveled west on Route 24 from Orinda to Berkeley and was distressed because you had picked one of the hottest days of the year for the cleaning of the tunnel. I reported at that time that there were well over 50 cars pulled to the side of the road as a result of boiling during the slow, long pull to the tunnel. You probably have my letter in your file.

AT THAT time I made two suggestions: first, that the semi-annual cleanings be done in cooler parts of the year; and second, that they be done at night.

You will recall that at that time you talked both to me and to Mr. Spencer of the California State Automobile Association and you pointed out that you did not observe such a tie-up in the tunnel during the semi-annual cleaning program and second, that because of the safety angle that you had explored but abandoned the idea of doing the job at night.

I want to report to you that at approximately 9:55 a.m. on Tuesday, July 11, 1961, I observed exactly the same situation in exactly the same location for exactly the same reason — cleaning the tunnel and blocking traffic on the grade to the tunnel during a period of extreme heat.

FIRST, it seems to me that cleaning the tunnel is foolish with the number of trucks hauling dirt through it at the present time.

Second, it seems foolish to restrict the flow to one tunnel and still permit the trucks to haul both directions in the tunnel.

Third, I understand from the newspaper announcements that you are taking advantage of this period to install new lighting and that work will be done both daytime and night. Evidently it is safe to install lights at night but it is not safe to clean the tunnel at night. I don't understand the difference since in both cases traffic in two directions will flow through one tube.

I THINK that I speak for most of the commuters in this area who have objected to the inadequate lighting—but at the same time have understood the problems in getting proper lighting in the cement lined tunnels subject to water seepage from the soil. We are almost happy that an additional tunnel is being built.

I can assure you that if most of us have gotten on along with the present lighting for periods varying from one month up to approximately 30 years (since the tunnel opened) that we could get along without the lighting until two years from now when the new tunnel is completed and then there would be no problem at all in shutting down one of three tubes instead of one of two tubes.

I WOULD like to have answers to three questions: Why is cleaning being done with all the loose dirt being hauled through the tunnel at the present time?

Why is cleaning being done during the hot season of the year? What logical reason is there for not postponing the installation of new lighting (which I understand will take several weeks) until the new tunnel is completed?

ROBERT KAHN.

Pope Blesses John Pastorino's Recent Marriage

Their marriage blessed by Pope John XXIII, Mr. and Mrs. John Anthony Pastorino of Orinda were married at Santa Maria Catholic Church in Orinda.

Rev. David Harrington officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, the former Roberta Ann Fagliano, is the daughter of the Fred Faglianos of Meadow View Road in Orinda.

She is a graduate of Acalanes High School.

John is the son of the Anthony Pastorinos of Oakland. He received his bachelor of arts degree at St. Mary's College.

Roberta was escorted to the altar by her father. Her gown was of white pure silk organza over taffeta and imported Alencon lace. An open neckline, long sleeves, appliqued bodice and bell-shaped skirt were features of the gown.

The bridal dress was also enhanced by a cathedral train and a crown shaped as a tiara of seed pearls held by a fingertip illusion veil.

Her cascading bouquet consisted of white orchids and stephanotis.

Joyce Fagliano, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Barbara Conti, Rosemarie Calamonaci, Sherry Sachtzen and Anne Firentino were bridesmaids.

Jerry and Jeanne Fagliano, twin cousins of the bride, were ringbearer and flower girl.

All bridesmaids were in pure silk taffeta of lavender blue gowns.

Robert Callegare, cousin of the bride, was best man; ushers were Richard Giambostini, Richard Fagliano, also cousin of the bride, and Robert Love and Peter Piombo.

Lena Piombo was in charge of the guest book at the reception, which was held at the Elks Club in Walnut Creek following the ceremony, where one thousand relatives and friends were received.

The bride's mother received in mint green peau de soie and lace over-skirt dress. The mother of the groom wore a pale pink peau de soie gown.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Carmel.

Miss Miles Will Marry In Autumn

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard E. Mile of Oakland have announced the engagement of their daughter, Patricia, to Gardner "Jum" Horst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Horst of Stow, Ohio.

Miss Miles graduated from Acalanes High School and the University of California where she was affiliated with Phi Mu Sorority. She has a sister, Mrs. Alan Dunham in Berkeley and a brother, Robert, now stationed in Amarillo, Texas, with the Air Force.

Horst received his degree in architectural engineering from the Pennsylvania State University where he was a Sigma Nu. He has a sister, Mrs. John J. Johnson, residing in Flint, Mich.

A September wedding is planned.

Miss Friden, A. J. Alioto Recite Vows

The former Frances Ann Friden became the bride of Anthony Joseph Alioto in a marriage ceremony performed recently in St. Mary's Catholic Church in Walnut Creek.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her stepfather, Arley A. Hill, was married at a 4 p.m. ceremony.

Pear Risk Past?

Agricultural commissioner Arthur L. Seeley has mailed two letters to all home owners in the pear-juniper rust quarantine area notifying them of the survey just completed.

All pear trees within the quarantine area were inspected from June 19 to July 7 and no infection was found.

Just prior to the start of the survey, five infected leaves were found on two properties. These leaves were destroyed and the trees were treated, stated Seeley.

All pear growing areas of the county outside the quarantine area were also inspected by the crews of four men hired by the State of California and supervised by two agricultural inspectors from the county department of agriculture.

Spraying this spring of all junipers in the area was apparently successful in preventing fungus spores from getting onto the pear trees, said Seeley.

The program which includes spraying and surveying will have to be continued for at least another year or two.

And with experience gained this past season and with concurrence from the State Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Plant Pathology, it is planned to start spraying junipers around February 15 and finish around the end of March.

Tubbed Evergreens Bring Native Charm to Garden

Coniferous or cone-bearing evergreens differ from so many wild plants in that their native charm carries over into the formal garden setting. Having them at hand is like having a corner of the forest for your very own.

Pines especially have a touch of wilderness about them, and even when tubbed for use in the minimum garden, they exude it. If you're an outdoorsman, try growing pines this way and see what we mean.

The California Association of Nurserymen has issued the following list of pines that are available for growing in tubs. They might include some surprises for gardeners who hadn't realized that many forest giants can be kept to tub size for years and years.

A CASE in point is the Japanese black pine, which Japanese gardeners have grown in bonsai plantings for centuries. You see pictures of gnarled old specimens that have outlived the men who planted them by many years.

Such skill is beyond the range of most of us, but there's nothing to prevent our tubbing a young black pine and enjoying its reduced rate of growth for many years.

Mugho pine, on the other hand, is an obvious choice for tubs because of its naturally dwarf habit. A squat, rotund pine, its Alpine freshness makes it a top choice. Out of a tub, it is excellent in the patio border.

THE SHORE PINE is a rugged-looking specimen that needs some help from the gardener if it is to attain the twisted, picturesque form of its native habitat. A few wires to help shape it will do what coastal winds do naturally. Left to its own, it will grow in a pyramidal pattern.

The fourth pine recommended is Scotch pine, a full and dense conifer that sports a full coat of foliage even at an early age. And this, says the CAN memo, is what the gardener wants to look for. He can plant any conifer in a container, but those he gets the most out of are those that are attractive when they're young.

Five Points for Gardeners to Check This Week

Continued pinching and feeding of fuchsias will insure a prolonged bloom and vigorous full plants.

Petunias and many other annuals that are losing their first bloom can be cut back and fed to encourage a second show of color.

Sometime this month, you can plant winter sweet peas for color during the holiday season.

Soil should be banked around the trunks of citrus trees to prevent water from standing in contact with the trunk when you irrigate.

Feed camellias, azaleas and rhododendrons again this month with a complete acid food. Water it in well.

College Loan Legislation Receives Encouragement

Recent efforts of Harry L. Morrison Jr., to initiate Federal legislation which would enable parents to obtain Federal loans to finance their children's college education, received encouragement this week in a letter from Senator Thomas Kuchel.

Morrison, a professor at St. Mary's College and president of the Lafayette Federal Savings and loan Association, earlier this month sent his recommendation to Congressman John A. Baldwin, with copies to both Senators Kuchel and Clair Engle.

THE RECOMMENDATION suggests the introduction of legislation which would enable Federal Savings and Loan Associations to provide low interest, long term loans to qualified applying parents of students eligible for college entrance, insured by the federal government in much the same manner as F.H.A. home improvement loans are now insured.

Baldwin in his reply to Morrison last week explained that any bill introduced to incorporate his recommendations would be referred by the appropriate House and Senate Committees to the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, which has jurisdiction over Federal Savings and Loan Associations.

IN REPLYING to Morrison, Kuchel termed Morrison's suggestion "most interesting" and expressed his willingness to cooperate with Baldwin "in any way that I can."

Morrison, while appreciative of Kuchel's interest, told The Sun that he was concerned by Kuchel's reference to private universities attracting intelligent students who might need financial help.

"It is not the brilliant students, nor the above better than average students I have in mind with this recommendation," Morrison remarked. "Such students qualify for scholarships, if they seek them. Every year, across the nation there are scholarships that go begging, either because the student cannot qualify or has not investigated.

"I am thinking of the good solid student who is qualified for college but does not have the grades to qualify him for a scholarship. It is this group, who compose the majority of our future citizens, that we have in mind."

MORRISON suggested that parents of potential college students write to Congressman Baldwin and to Senators Kuchel requesting legislation as suggested in Morrison's recommendation.

Baldwin may be addressed in care of the House Post Office, Washington, D.C., the senators in care of the Senate Post Office.

Fishing Still 'Hot' at White's Landing, Ozol

By LARRY JACKSON

Fishing remains about the same all along the waterfront. Still "hot" along the White's Landing and Ozol area, but slowed down in the McAvoy sectio.n Most of the action is boat fishing with all types of troller leads.

While the sport is still active the fish are in the smaller groups and you have to catch too many non-keepers to get your legal fish.

Dal Hering at White's Resort reports over 500 legal fish docked from the boats in the past 15 days. This is fishing at its best. Crowds have visited the wharf and the new addition, with the dock fishermen getting a better haul of fish. Some are taking bait, but the best catches are on lures. Fair sized flounder are helping to to fill the bags as the anchovies and shrimp are still in the area.

Top fish of the week only registered 8½ pounds but hopes are for more and bigger fish starting Wednesday as the tide changes.

Our personal fish chart shows good fishing for the next seven days and the best fishing of the month starting about the 8th for the next week.

Several of the boat addicts report some real "tackle busters" in this araea with plenty of ruined gear. Nobody has landed one yet or even brought one up to "color" so nobody knows for sure what they are, but they have all the action of large stripers of the "hit and run" variety.

Boats out of Dowrello's as well as Bay Marina at Rodeo are continuing to play the White's-Ozol waters. Reports show many limits coming ashore but also just too many non-keepers hitting the "metal-junk."

Not much action up McAvoy's Harbor way as the winds for the past week kept the boaters ashore. A few hardy souls braved the elements and were rewarded with stripers in the 18-20 inch class but on the whole most of the sports were held back with the windy conditions.

Vince Bruno and youngest son, made it out for two consecutive days and brought home limits, but the fish all just above the legal size. Al Cappetta and a fishing buddy hit the Honker Bay area and loaded up on large sized "cats" during a storm lull, as well as Jim Fillmore and pal Murphy. They all report plenty of the "cats," but nary a sturgeon work the area. The rough water is not conducive to good fishing.

Hal Wildes at the Harbor showed us plans for remodelling. He is moving the present tackle stand and office and is building a beautiful new office, large tackle display room and a new modern snack bar with living quarters for our good friends, the Phillips. When this is completed this will make the spot much more attractive for the sportsmen and gals.

Hal hopes to have the bridge out to the shoreline completed by the end of this week and the road is now in good condition for access to the shore fishing spots.

The Abalone boys were out in force over the past weekend. Howie Giuffre, Woody Timar, Al Balcke and son Tom as well as the ever present Chet Arthur headed up to their favorite spot above Anchor Bay and limited out on the abalones again. Even with the rough water on the ol' briny the boys boated out over the fishing banks and before the storm really hit managed to get their share of sea trout, red snappers and cod. They report plenty of abalone, but the weather raw and windy taking a bit of an edge off the sport.

Most of the local "sports" are putting up the fishing gear and polishing up the rifles for the opening of the deer season this coming weekend. Which reminds us, if you haven't sighted in that rifle yet this year, better get out to the Associated Club's range at Willow Pass and Norton and do it now. No need of letting that nice fat buck get away just because you don't know your gun.

Four Redwood City Meet Records Set By 2 Aquabears

Two Aquabears won six first place trophies and set four records in last weekend's Redwood City Invitational Swimming Meet.

Dick Jacobberger, the Aquabears' leading medal winner this year, set two records in two different divisions as he took three firsts in the meet.

Susie Barkley set new marks in her age division and walked off with three first place trophies, also.

Jacobberger set a new Pacific Association and meet record in the Senior Men's 200-yard freestyle event. His time was 1:53.0.

In the 100-yard butterfly for boys 16 and 16, he set a new meet record of 56.3.

His other first came in the 100-yard freestyle with a time of 50.7.

Miss Barkley set meet records in the 100-yard freestyle and the 100-yard butterfly for 15 and 15-year-old girls.

Her time in the freestyle event was 58.9. In the butterefly, it was 1.06.7.

She also captured a first in the 100 - yard freestyle for Senior Women. Her time was 59.8.

In the 200-yard individual medley, Miss Barkely finished second with a time of 2:31.9.

Peter Schnugg picked up a second, third and fourth in the meet for boys 10 and under.

Duke Gibbs had a second place finish in the 13 and 14-year-old division.

Chris Uphred picked a second place finish in the girls 13 and 14 age group.

In the Pleasant Hill Free and Fly Meet Sunday Doug Duke and Peter Schnugg each took home gold medals.

Schnugg's first came in the 50-yard freestyle. He had a time of 30.2.

Duke copped top honors for boys 10 and under in the 50-yard butterfly with a time of 33.7.

Orinda Woman Wins Tourney

Mrs. Austin Little of Orinda took top honors in Class B of the Best Nine One Half Handicap Tournament in the Tilden Park Women's Golf Group last week.

Her winning score was 52-18—34.

Mrs. Jack Neely of Lafayette finished third in Class B with a 52-12—40.

New Bowling League for Area Youngsters Formed

A new winter junior league bowling program will be started this year at the Walnut Bowl under the sponsorship of the Walnut Creek Youth Athletic Association.

The program will be designed for boys and girls from seven to 19 years of age and who reside in the Walnnt Creek area.

There will be three divisions: Bantams (7 to 12), Juniors (13 to 15) and Seniors (16 to 19).

The league season will start on or about September 15 and will run until April 15.

The leagues will bowl on Saturday mornings, Monday and Friday afternoons.

THE WALNUT Bowl is cooperating with WCYAA completely in the forming of this league.

The local bowling establishment will organize and supervise the leagues.

The management will also provide certified instructors to do the coaching.

They also will provide free rental of bowling shoes for the youngsters.

Cost of the bowling will be 80 cents for the Bantams (they bowl only two games) and $1.20 for the Juniors and Seniors.

The Walnut Bowl will also arrange for secretarial service to keep the current individual and team standings.

The youth association will provide trophies at the end of the season.

Concord Legion Team Advances

Concord's American Legion team that tied for the Contra Costa division title with Martinez has now advanced to the Second Area tournament at Redwood City.

Concord blasted Martinez in a special playoff, 10-2, to decide the local champion.

They then went on to swamp Lakeside Market of Antioch in two straight games to take the Ninth District and county championship.

Are the Giants Too Dull? See The Merchants

If you are a baseball fan who likes to see a game that features plenty of hitting and not much else you ought to watch the Walnut Creek Merchants play some Sunday at Civic Field.

In 10 games this summer the Merchants have scored 85 runs—an average of better than eight runs a game.

Yet their season record going into this Sunday's game with Acme Carpet is a mediocre 5-5.

The reason is obvious if you look at the statistics—the opposition has scored 79 runs.

The Merchants have scored 15 runs in two games, winning 15-2 and 15-1.

In the other eight games, the opponents have outscored the Walnut Creek team, 75-55.

The Merchants have also scored 14, 13 and 10 runs in single contests.

In four of their five wins, the team has scored more than 10 runs.

In their lone win when they tallied less than 10 runs, the score was 9-8.

One game the Merchants lost, 14-10. This was the only occasion when they scored in double figures and were defeated.

Last Sunday the local team collected 18 hits, three weeks ago they had 17 and in the opening game of the season they had 16.

In other games they have had 12, 11 and 10 twice.

WC Manager, PH Pitcher Stand Out for Locals

Paced by Manager Joe McElroy's five-for-five day at the plate, the Walnut Creek Merchants scored a come from behind 14-13 victory over Cano Realty of San Jose Sunday at Civic Field.

Pleasant Hill, meanwhile, was dropping a heart-breaking 2-1 decision in 10 innings to tough Acme Carpet at Alameda's Washington Park on the same day despite Leroy Fonseca's finest pitching effort of the season.

The two local semi-pro teams are in action again this Sunday.

Pleasant Hill entertains the San Rafael Merchants at the Diablo Valley College diamond at 2 p.m.

Walnut Creek moves into Washington Park Sunday for an 11:30 a.m. contest against Acme Carpet, the National Baseball Congress Winter League champions.

McELROY slammed two home-runs in the game Sunday, the last one coming in the bottom of the ninth with two men on base to give the Merchants their fifth win of the season against five losses.

The Merchants were trailing 13-9 going into the last inning.

Dick Dodge led off with a walk. Clark Ransome followed with a single to left, moving Dodge to second.

Jim Maggart and George Colburn then followed with two more singles to drive home Dodge and Ransome. That made the score 13-11 and nobody was out.

After Terry Sieberlich struck out, McElroy climaxed the long afternoon with his drive over the centerfield fence.

The Walnut Creek manager who is currently performing at shortstop, had put the Merchants on the scoreboard in the second inning with his first homerun of the afternoon. The Merchants were trailing at the time, 3-0.

In between his two circuit clouts, he sandwiched three singles and an intentional pass for his perfect afternoon at the plate.

He drove home five runs in the game and scored three times himself.

He is now 20 for 40 on the season and has four homeruns and 15 RBI's.

While McElroy was keeping the Merchants in the game, the Walnut Creek fielders were desperately trying to give the game away.

THE MERCHANTS committed eight official errors and numerous other "mental miscalculations."

Trailing 5-1, the Merchants rallied for five runs in the fifth to jump out on top, 6-5.

San Jose came right back with three runs in the sixth aided by a pair of errors and only one hit.

The Merchants bounced back on top with three more runs in the sixth to lead, 9-8.

In the eighth the Merchants handed San Jose four more runs as they committed four more errors.

San Jose now led, 13-9, but it only set the stage for McElroy's

The Merchants collected 18 hits in the game.

MAGGART collected four hits, one a homerun leading off the sixth inning.

San Jose centerfielder Lee Mauro took another four-bagger away from Maggart in the third as he went over the fence to grab his blast.

Ransome, who releived starter Bill Remy in the eighth, was the winning pitcher. Neither pitcher could be blamed for the high score as their support in the field was shoddy, to say the least.

AT ALAMEDA, Fonseca pitched an outstanding game for nine innings, but it wasn't quite good enough to win.

His teammates collected only three hits and they all came in the first inning as Pleasant Hill scored its only run.

Fonseca retired after nine innings with the score knotted at 1-1. He gave up only six hits, three in the third inning when Acme scored its frist run of the game.

Bob Kerry pitched the 10th and gave up the winning run.

In the first inning Bill Chappell drove home the locals only run with a double off the leftfield screen.

His hit followed singles by Glen Kinion and Mark Bowers.

Pleasant Hill couldn't push across any more runs that inning or in the game off lefty Wayne Seitz who was almost perfect for the next nine innings.

If you see a PG&E lineman with this strange-looking gun, he's stringing power lines—not hunting. Canyons, dense trees, streams and other obstacles slow up power line construction. But not with a modern line-throwing gun! It can shoot a light line more than 400 feet over obstructions—then the power line is attached and hauled through otherwise impassable sections quickly—and economically. Saving time and construction costs with efficient methods like this is another example of creative engineering at Pacific Gas and Electric Company as it builds ahead for a state-on-the-grow.

Earn A New Bike! Sun Plan for Boys, Girls

It's not hard to own a new racer bike, boy's or girl's.

Simply sell 10 subscriptions to The Sun, rated as one of the leading weekly newspapers in California.

The bike, nationally famous Royce Union, will be yours in a choice of the 20, 24 or 26-inch wheel size.

"This is not a contest," announced Herman Silverman, Sun publisher. "Any boy or girl can win a Royce Union bike in the Sun's "Earn-a-Bike" plan.

"IT'S NECESSARY to sell 10 new subscriptions to any of the four Sun newspapers, The Walnut Creek Sun, Orinda Sun, Lafayette Sun or Pleasant Hill Sun."

He added, "The boys and girls can see what the bikes look like by visiting the Sun offices at 1320 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, or 1001 Oak Hill Road, Lafayette and also at Simon's, Walnut Creek.

"Actually everybody wins, whether they sell all 10 subscriptions or not.

"If you sell only three subscriptions, you will receive (boys) a Sylvette calendar model watch with a lifetime mainspring. The girls' watch is a good looking style of Sylvette of Switzerland.

"FOR EVERY added subscription up to a total of nine subscriptions, you will receive an additional $1.

"The boys and girls get the bikes; their subscription money pays for the bikes and watches; we add to our already-wide circulation."

The bikes are delivered in crates. The $36.87 value of the earned bike can be applied to the purchase of any bike at Simon's.

Walnut Creek Sidewalk Bazaar: Today & Tomorrow

Public Bazaar Offers Fun, Excitement, Bargains

The excitement of the public bazaar, and the bargains too, will come to Walnut Creek today and tomorrow.

It's the "Sidewalk Bazaar," offering specially priced merchandise from decorated booths and tables set on the sidewalk in front of local stores.

Last year's bazaar drew large and happy crowds from all parts of the entire county.

This year's bazaar has even more to offer, according to George Webster, president of the Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce.

Clerks, some in costume, will "hawk" their wares in old fashioned bazaar style, all to the advantage of area families' shopping budgets, Webster added.

Stores will compete for prize awards to be presented for the best decorated booths and tables.

And many local stores are planning extra activities to attract attention and entertain.

Many firms not directly in the retail business are also planning booths furnishing information on services and exhibitions of services performed, adding to the bazaar atmosphere, Webster said.

And while walking along, enjoying the new atmosphere, don't pass up the free "sunshine."

That is, stand still long enough for the boy to give you a free shoe shine, courtesy of The Sun!

And watch for the "Sun Clown!"

The Sun newspapers have gone bazaar-happy too!

Watering Is Very Important During July

Watering is your primary job during July. Lack of moisture will become obvious and perhaps too late. Mulching will conserve moisture.

You can stop pinching chrysanthemums after this week. Food and water is all they need between now and bloom.

Set out bedding plants, some for quick color now, others for bloom in fall.

Plant berried shrubs now and enjoy their fall display.

Feed roses again this month and water them liberally. Head back lanky growth to keep the bushes attractively shaped.

Sell It Now With A Speedy Sun Class Ad!

"I could have sold 18 pianos," said Miss Margaret Watkins of 2750 North Main Street, Walnut Creek, who offered her Wurlitzer spinet with bench in The Sun want ad columns.

Typical.

Mrs. George Burnside of 234 Acadia Lane, Alamo, also sold her piano.

A. Yrugel of 2520 San Miguel Drive, Walnut Creek, sold his 1953 Mercury two-door hardtop with a single Sun wan ad.

Health Is Topic

Attendance at the workshop on school health opening next Monday morning at Diablo Valley College may exceed 100, a preliminary sign-up of teachers, school nurses and administrators indicates.

Registration of the 125 who have already indicated their interest, as well as all others wishing to participate, will begin at 7:45 a.m. Monday in the college cafeteria, announced Health Consultant Byron Cross.

Cross said 81 elementary and 35 secondary school personnel and nine administrators and consultants have notified him they plan to attend.

Workshop classes will be held each week day from Monday to August 18 from 8:15 a.m. to noon.

Among the visiting speakers will be Andrew Hanners, director of education, Council on Alcohol Problems; Mrs. Frances Prout, home economist; Dr. Zachary Stadt, dental health officer, Contra Costa County Health Department; and Dr. Ralph W. Weilerstein, Federal Food and Drug Administration.

Topics to be covered are mental health, consumer health, family life education, control of disease, dental health, alcohol education and use and misuse of drugs.

Sponsors of the workshop include the county school and health departments, Alameda-Contra Costa Medical Association, Tuberculosis and Health Association of Contra Costa, Contra Costa Branch of the American Cancer Society, Contra Costa County Heart Association and San Francisco State College.

Dr. Harold Cornacchia of the state college is workshop director.

His staff includes Cross, Dr. James Fikes of Fresno State College and Charles Trowbridge of the Stockton Unified School District.

Like Meteorology--See About USAF Opportunity

A limited number of young men will be offered extensive training in meteorology this fall through the United States Air Force Officer Training School, Sgt. George J. McMahon, local Air Force recruiter, announced this week.

Basic qualifications for entry into the USAF Officer Training School — a three-month course which awards a commission as second lieutenant — are age 20½ to 27½; U.S. citizenship; good physical condition; and college graduation with a baccalaureate or higher degree from an accredited college or university.

Specific qualifications for the meteorology training are college math through integral calculus with a "C" average and a minimum grade of "C" in differential and integral calculus courses.

Additional requirements are one year of college physics including laboratory with at least a "C" average and a minimum grade of "C" in the last physics course completed.

Applicants accepted for the program would enter officer training school in October, 1961, begin basic meteorology training in January, 1962 and then go on to advanced training at either Texas A&M College or the University of Oklahoma.

Full information on application procedure may be obtained from the PSAF Recruiting Office, 2183 Concord Blvd., Concord, or by calling MU 2-3942.

Distance Race Is September 18

Entry blanks for the 17th Walnut Festival Race have been mailed to 250 amateur distance runners registered with the Pacific Association of the AAU.

Sponsored by the Walnut Festival and sanctioned by the AAU this 5.7-mile race is run over a three-lap 1.9-mile course. Keith Wallace, a Stanford student in 1959, holds the record of 28 minutes 24 seconds in the 5.7-mile race.

The biggest change this year is the new rule of no post entries. Several times in the past last-minute post entries have won the race.

There is no entry fee.

All entrants must have valid AAU registration numbers. Runners must file entry on official entry blanks by Monday, September 18. Amateur registration is available for 50c per year from AAU registration chairman Frank R. Geis, 604 Mission St., San Francisco, SU 1-0750.

The race starts in front of the new public library and runs to Civic Drive; down Civic to Ygnacio Road; on Ygnacio to Walnut Blvd.; south on Walnut Blvd. to Sierra; on Sierra to Walker; along Walker to Mt. Diablo Blvd.; on Mt. Diablo to N. Broadway; on N. Broadway to the finish line where race began. The race follows this course three times around.

Entry blanks may be obtained from race chairman Andy MacCono, 1840 Geary Road, Walnut Creek.

Prizes this year will be trophies to first, second and third place winners, and medals to all the others who finish.

A team trophy will be presented to the first three-man team to finish.

Early entries have already been received from Ken Strong, Culver City AC; Jack Marden, Santa Clara Valley Youth Village; James Fuller, Herbert Potter and James Forsyth, SFAC; John Weidinger and Mark Ward, both unattached.

Sen. Miller Is Bill Co-Author

State Senator George Miller, Jr., who represents Contra Costa Contra Costa County, is a co-author of affirmative arguments on behalf of Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 32.

The amendment, which will go on the ballot in November, 1962.

'Village' Notes First Birthday; Stores Coming

Kenneth Q. Volk, Jr., vice-president of Volk-McLain Communities, Inc., said, "This month marks the first anniversary of San Ramon Village."

He continued, "It would be impossible to express our thanks adequately to the officials of Contra Costa and Alameda counties for their cooperation and assistance in planning a vast new community to eventually house some 50,000 people.

"On the day San Ramon Village began to take shape the valley population was about 750.

"AS OF THIS date one year later that number has swelled to 2670 and every week the number of villagers grows.

"On Labor Day, Sept. 4, 1960, we began our sales program—and to say that we were delighted by the public response and acceptance of our homes would be a great understatement.

"By November 3 we were ready to move in the first families, and in a huge caravan of 40 moving vans they arrived at their new homes in San Ramon Village.

"Thus far over 600 families have moved in and an additional 200 are waiting for completion of their homes.

"PEEKING into the last half of 1961 we anticipate that our total sales will have reached 1200 homes for a gross sales figure of approximately $16,800,000 by December.

"The first sight to greet visitors to the village is our modern, complete shopping center.

"This $1,500,000 facility opened last April 19 when the doors were opened at the 21,000-square foot Safeway store.

"A two million-gallon water storage tank has been installed and is currently in operation.

"THUS FAR over eight miles of water trunk lines have been installed, not including in-tract lines—and over 12.5 miles of sewer trunk lines have been installed which will extend north to the Bishop Ranch.

"When completed in September of this year the complete water and sewer system will be approximately a $4,500,000 project, and one of the most modern installations in the world," said Volk.

Volk-McLain Opens Country Club, Course

Ground has been broken for "San Ramon Country Club Park and Golf Course," the new $1 million country club-tournament golf development in Volk-McLain Communities', Inc. rapidly growing "San Ramon Village."

Contra Costa and Alameda county officials and Bay Area civic leaders attended the ceremonies. Robert B. McLain and Kenneth Q. Volk, Jr., turned the first silver shovels of earth.

San Ramon Country Club Golf Course will spread over 140 acres just north of the Alameda-Contra Costa County line.

Interwoven with the new golf course fairways will be 200 acres of Country Club Park homes.

Built for Country Club Park and San Ramon Village by Volk-McLain, the golf course will have a $400,000 clubhouse and 18-hole, $600,000 tournament course and driving range, plus an adjoining swim and racquet club.

The course will be combined with a spacious clubhouse featuring a pro shop, banquet rooms, cocktail lounge, snack shop, and men's and women's showers and locker rooms.

Kenneth Q. Volk, Jr., Volk-McLain, vice-president, said the first nine holes will be completed by the end of this year and that the course is scheduled to be seeded September 1.

The semi-public course and club, whose colors will be green and white, is slated for total completion in early 1962.

Glasson said that the fairways and tees will be kept green by means of an automatic sprinkler system.

Volk-McLain, he added, has developed a special well to provide the necessary water. Over 4000 trees will be planted.

Ralph Arnesen, manager of commercial and industrial properties for Volk-McLain, is responsible for the development and operation of the San Ramon Country Club.

The course's golf professional and greens superintendent have not been named yet, McLain said.

The 72-par course designed by Clark Glasson will meander through 6400 yards of landscaped fairways which can be extended to 6800 yards for tournament play.

One of the four water hazards will be Lake San Ramon, created as a beauty spot and as a reservoir for watering the course.

'Enigma Look' Comes to Town

Miss Vesper Schill, of Alexandra de Markoff will be at Joseph Magnin, Walnut Creek, August 17 and 18 to demonstrate an intriguing new look for faces: The Enigma Look.

The look begins with Countess Isserlyn No. 0. An illuminated tones leaving the skin a diaphanous, translucent "pale."

The look radiates lightness. It is the basis for The Enigma Look, achieved with a group of coordinated preparations and permutations.

Mt. Diablo Unified School District, with both high and elementary schools, has 104 teachers making more than $7800, while the total for Mt. Diablo, Antioch and Pittsburg Unified Districts is 162.

Contra Costa Junior College has 50 teachers making more than $8800 per year.

County Recieves $15,000 In Federal Welfare Aid

The State Department of Social Welfare announced today that $14,925 in federal funds have been allotted to Contra Costa County to help finance local child welfare services during the 1961-62 fiscal year.

San Diego County received $33,645, by far the largest sum in the state.

In second place was Santa Barbara with $16,830.

Contra Costa had the third largest figure of the 16 participating counties.

The money is part of $970,000 in federal child welfare service funds earmarked for California during the current year, and is used to supplement state and local expenditures for assistance to families and children.

These services are aimed at problems involving school absenteeism, family breakup, illegitimacy, adoptions, child neglect, and foster home placement.

The 16 counties receiving these funds have submitted satisfactory child welfare plans showing sufficient and professionally qualified staff to carry them out.

J. M. Wedemeyer, State Director of Social Welfare, said the main purpose of these federal allocations, is to stimulate community interest in providing help for children and their families which will result in greater family stability and increased self-sufficiency so that dependence on public support can be prevented or reduced.
